

IMISS2011

International Maritime Incident and Near Miss Reporting Conference 2011, Helsinki, Finland

Day 1 – 1st September 2011

9:00-9:15	Welcome	Pentti Kujala, Professor, Aalto University
9:15-9:30	Future development of incident- and near miss reporting	Jouni Lappalainen, University of Turku, Center for Maritime Studies, Finland
9:30-10:00	How to make money with incident reporting	(tbc)
10:00-10:30	We were successful in incident reporting	(tbc)
10:30-11:00	Reporting of accidents and work-related diseases with special reference to multicultural crews	Jørgen Riis Jepsen, Ass. Professor, Centre of Maritime Health and Safety, Denmark
11:00-11:30	High resources but low incidents	(tbc)
11:30-12:00	How to engage into incident reporting	Janne Lumia, Airbus-Captain, FINNAIR, Finland
12:00-13:00	Lunch
13:00-15:30	Workshop: how to improve reporting in maritime domain
15:30-16:00	Results from the workshop and summary of day 1 – Networking around Baltic Sea Region
16:15-16:30	Visit to Aalto's ice tank
19:00-	Dinner (Restaurant Ranta, Radisson Blu Hotel, Espoo)

Day 2 – 2nd September 2011

8:45-9:00	Coffee
9:00-9:15	Why should risk modeling be considered in reporting practices?	Maria Hänninen, Researcher, Aalto University
9:15-10:00	Barriers to the use of incident reporting as a guide for risk assessment: Concerns about safety management in air traffic services	Chris Johnson, Professor, University of Glasgow
10:00-10:15	Accident investigation process in Sweden	Ylva Bexell, Nautical investigator, Swedish Accident Investigation Board
10:15-10:30	EMCIP accident database	N.N., Finnish Transport Safety Agency or EMSA
10:30-11:00	A discussion of human and organizational factor reporting gaps in maritime accident investigations	Jens-Uwe Schröder-Hinrichs, Associate Professor, World Maritime University (WMU)
11:00-11:30	A search for accident mechanisms in powered groundings - An assessment of BBN as a modeling tool	Svein Kristiansen, Professor, Norwegian University of Science and Technology
11:30-12:30	Lunch
12:30-14:30	Workshop: How to efficiently utilize accident and incident data in risk modeling
14:30-15:15	Results of the workshops - Summary
15:15-15:30	Closing words of the conference	Pentti Kujala, Professor, Aalto University